

I asked ChatGPT to “create a food dish” and it came up with garlic butter shrimp pasta. It is very impressive how detailed the response was, with it going into all of the steps and procedure of the entire cooking process. This was a very different response from the pizza that I had created using p5.